THAT'S CRAZY

Just something to wear around the house

Why did California-based artists Robin Lasser and Adrienne Pao invent wearable architecture, their amazing, provocative dresses that morph into tents? Robin says that their work "poses the question of what lies under a woman's skirt in the 21st century."

HOW CUTE!

They're grrreat!

Four-week-old tiger triplets were three times the fuzzy fun at the Leipzig Zoo in Germany on July 13. Zookeepers tried to coax the cute cubs into showing off their claws and roaring for the crowd, but the three preferred to cozy up in the grass!
